

Author's Contribution Form

Authorship:

Authorship credit should be based on:

- 1) substantial contributions to conception and design, acquisition of data, analysis, and interpretation of data;
- 2) drafting the article or revising it critically for important intellectual content;
- 3) final approval of the version to be published.

Authors should meet all three conditions. When a large, multi-center group has conducted the work, the group should identify the individuals who accept direct responsibility for the manuscript. When submitting a group manuscript, the corresponding author should clearly indicate the preferred citation of authors and should clearly identify all individual authors as well as the group name. The order of authorship on the byline should be a joint decision of the co-authors. All persons designated as authors should qualify for authorship, and all those who qualify should be listed. Each author should participate sufficiently in the work to take public responsibility for appropriate fragments of the study, the content and conflict of interests.

All contributors who do not meet the criteria for authorship should be listed in the acknowledgments section. All persons must give written permission to be acknowledged.
